

CAMIN D'OLT FROM THE BRÉFINIES TO THE ABBEY

Randonnée familiale de 4 jours -niveau facile-

(Tarifs en fin de document)

Point de départ : Les Bréfinies

Jour 1 : Les Bréfinies → Grand Vabre: 12 km

The farm of the Ânes de Monédiès (breeding of donkeys of the Pyrenees) from where you will begin your hike is located in the hamlet of Bréfinies crossed by the Way of St Jacques (GR65). Located in a green area, having in part below the Brousse stream and its green pastures and above the small village with three typical Aveyron houses made of shale stone and stone roofs.

On the heights of Les Bréfinies is the plateau of Almont-Les-Junies that you will cross at the beginning of your walk and from which you will be able to admire an exceptional panorama on the Monts du Cantal and the Plateau de L'Aubrac. You will then plunge through pretty chestnut groves to reach the Chapel of Monédiès. This pre-Romanesque chapel, one thousand two hundred years old, located in the heart of nowhere, was magnificently restored in 2003 by "Les Monuments Historiques", giving hikers the feeling of being back in the middle ages. This site lends itself particularly well for a picnic break with its spring, its river below and the bell of the chapel that you will have the leisure to ring.

Your donkey will also appreciate this stop for its beautiful green and fat grass to graze. At the end of this day, you will reach the town of Grand Vabre where you will stop.

Jour 2 : Grand Vabre → Vieillevie: 12,5 km

The picturesque village is located at the confluence of the rivers Dourdou and Lot and at the border of three departments, Aveyron, Lot and Cantal. On the heights of the village are charming hamlets, from which you can admire an exceptional panorama. The altitude varies from 199 to 609 meters on the whole commune.

The origin of the name Grand Vabre is not clearly defined. Research, explanations and various interpretations have been provided starting from studies based on words of Celtic or Latin origin as well as Occitan, through which, without giving any certainty, it is admitted that the name "Grand Vabre" could be the equivalent of "big village" or "big valley covered with trees" or "big valley of underground streams". Why in these places? Nothing precise on this point, except that the legend and the chronicles concerning Dadon, the hermit at the origin of the monastery of Conques, mention a retreat in this place of calm and solitude where he founded Grand Vabre. This event in the history of the village dates back to the 8th century, when Dadon withdrew from community life for a life of meditation.

Vieillevie

Jour 3 : Vieillevie → Espeyrac: 15 km

The charming village of the valley, where in the past renowned pig and horse fairs were held, lies at the foot of its remarkable 15th and 16th century castle with wooden hoardings. The small Romanesque church is decorated with historiated capitals and double-arched windows. Near Vieillevie, on the left bank of the Lot, Montarnal is built at the foot of its ancient fortress (XIII century) of which a decapitated round tower remains.

In this hamlet once resided the gabelous who hunted smugglers. The current church of Notre-Dame-d'Aynes, in neo-Gothic style, houses the relics of Saint Brandan, an Irish saint, which were brought back by Gauzfred de Montarnal, lord of the place, who left in 1066 to take part in the battle of Hastings at the side of William the Conqueror. Its relics are reputed to cure skin diseases. Our bivouac area is located a few meters from the river Lot which crosses Vieillevie.

Jour 4 : Espeyrac → Conques: 14 km

Sitting on a rocky promontory facing the valley, Espeyrac was built in an amphitheater with steep streets and stairways. The three Dazes, three streams born on the surrounding plateaus, meet at its feet offering a green nature seducing the hikers. The book of miracles of Sainte-Foy tells the story of an inhabitant of Spariacus, "Guibert l'illuminé", miraculously cured in 960.

While returning from a pilgrimage to Conques, the unfortunate Guibert was attacked by the henchmen of his master who suspected his steward of wanting to steal a female conquest. Despite his proclamations of innocence, the barbarians tore out his eyes. Once they had left, two birds came secretly to collect Guibert's eyes, before flying off in the direction of Conques. A year after this misfortune, Saint Foy appeared to Guibert and explained that she had prayed for his recovery. She invited him to go to Conques the next day, the day before the feast of his martyrdom. When he arrived at Conques, Guibert spent the night in prayer. That night Guibert recovered his sight.

Conques, the medieval town

The view of Conques is striking for those coming from the west. Nestled on the side of the wooded hill that appears before the walker on the opposite bank of the Dourdou, this magnificent medieval village exposes its tiers of slate roofs where the three towers of the Sainte Foy basilica dominate. There is too much to see for everything to be described: the basilica of course and what we have been able to reconstitute of the cloister, but also the half-timbered facades in "X" filled with schist, the corbelled houses, the chapel of St. Roch (XVIth) on the rocky mound, the castle of Humières with its high tower and its mullioned windows, the Romanesque door of Vinzelle by which the pilgrims used to go back, a tower of the old enclosure, etc...

Recognized as one of the "Most Beautiful Villages of France", Conques collects titles of nobility. The abbey of this "Grand Site de Midi-Pyrénées" is classified as a UNESCO World Heritage Site;

At the end of your hike, we will pick you up in Conques.
